HIGH VISIBILITY SAFETY APPAREL

SAFETY FIRST.

Nothing is more important than keeping your workers safe.

When there's a possibility of physical injury or death on the job, high-visibility safety apparel is absolutely essential. And X-treme Visibility™ is simply the best high-visibility safety apparel you can provide. We utilize ANSI/ISEA 107-2004 & 207-2006 – the American national standards for high visibility safety apparel, as our guide for our entire product line. Worker safety can also positively affect your insurance rates. In fact, studies by insurance carriers have proven that wearing reflective safety apparel helps reduce on-the-job accidents. As experts in safety standards, we can help guide you to the proper apparel for your employees – including construction, highway, industrial and waste workers, and police, fire and rescue personnel.

SERVICE A CLOSE SECOND.

High-visibility safety apparel is all we do.

We are committed to providing you with the highest quality products and the most responsive service, whatever your safety apparel needs. Whether you need shirts, vests or jackets. Whether you need several or several hundred. Whether they need to be personalized or even customized. And in addition to apparel that's union-made in our Chisholm, Minnesota factory, we have an import operation that can give you the most competitive price point available – without compromising our own standards for quality. Add to all this our nationwide network of helpful distributors and representatives, and it's obvious we mean it when we say, Whatever It Takes To Keep 'Em SafeSM.

Our 60 years of experience are sewn into every product we make.

Let X-treme Visibility personalize your apparel with your silk-screened or embroidered logo or other message.

We can customize our products to meet your specific requirements, including placement of reflective material, colors, or even adding or removing pockets through our custom sourcing programs.

WE KNOW WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT SAFETY STANDARDS.

Along with healthier, more reliable employees, protecting workers exposed to low-visibility hazards can help reduce insurance costs and give you better legal protection.

Under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, employers are responsible for providing safe and healthful workplaces for their employees. OSHA's role is to assure the safety and health of America's working men and women by setting and enforcing standards; providing training, outreach and education; establishing partnerships; and encouraging continual process improvement in workplace safety and health.

To that end, a voluntary industry consensus standard has been developed that specifies the requirements for high-visibility safety apparel. The American National Standard For High-Visibility Safety Apparel (ANSI/ISEA 107-2004) is the authoritative guide for design, performance specifications and use of high-visibility and reflective apparel including vests, jackets, and pants.

Garments that meet this standard can be worn 24 hours a day to provide users with a high-level of conspicuity on job sites. Since 1999, private industries, as well as various federal, state and local authorities have recognized this standard.

The Eight Principles of Workplace Safety

The National Association of Safety Professionals (NASP) is a nonprofit membership organization that offers safety training (classroom and distance learning) and safety certification programs that meet or exceed requirements established by OSHA. NASP has identified these Principles of Workplace Safety:

- 1. Safety is an ethical responsibility
- 2. Safety is a culture not a program
- 3. Management is responsible
- 4. Employees must be trained to work safely
- 5. Safety is a condition of employment
- 6. All injuries are preventable
- 7. Safety programs must be site specific with recurring audits of the workplace and prompt corrective action
- 8. Safety is good business

ANSI/ISEA 107-2004 and 207-2006 Overview:

ANSI/ISEA 107-2004 and 207-2006 were developed to protect workers who are exposed to low visibility hazards.

- ANSI is the voice of the U.S. standards and conformity assessment system. The Institute oversees the creation and use of thousands of guidelines that directly impact businesses in nearly every sector, including personal protective equipment and specifically – high-visibility safety apparel.
- ISEA is the trade association in the United States for companies that manufacture safety and personal protective equipment. Including high-visibility safety apparel. The mission of ISEA is to support its members in manufacturing and marketing the highest quality safety and health products. ISEA member companies are united in the common goal of protecting the health and safety of people exposed to hazardous and potentially harmful environments.
- 107-2004 and 207-2006 provides end-users with documentation that a garment meets all the requirements of the standard. To comply with ANSI/ISEA 107-2004 and 207-2006 each garment’s background material, and retroreflective or combined-performance material, is tested and certified by an independent, accredited third-party laboratory. XVD Corp. then verifies that the garment or headwear meets all the requirements of the standard, and will provide a certificate of compliance for each model upon request.

BASED IN CHISHOLM. WHERE EVERYTHING'S EXTREME.

Chisholm, Minnesota has always been a place of extremes. And not just because the temperature here has dropped as low as 44 degrees below zero.

Located 200 miles north of the Twin Cities, Chisholm is in the center of the Mesabi Iron Range, the largest depository of iron ore in the world. Home to miners and their families for over 120 years, this community has endured through good times and bad, including the 1908 fire that nearly destroyed the town.

Extreme conditions and extreme professions demand extreme toughness and resiliency in its people. And in Chisholm, the American work ethic is as strong as ever.

In fact, our 55,000 square-foot factory has a 60-year history of manufacturing everything from insulated miners' helmet liners to snowmobile suits and performance outerwear.

Today these facilities are producing the highest quality high-visibility safety apparel on the market. Union-made right here in the U.S.A. and sewn with pride by some of the most loyal and experienced employees in the industry. Our staff averages a 13-year tenure with the factory and turnover is uncommonly low. Their dedication and eye for detail shows up in every product we sew.

Chisholm isn't just where we work. It's part of who we are. No wonder we use the name XTREME to describe our products.
